

OVERLAND TO CALIFORNIA.

Notes From a Journal kept by Mrs. Francis H. Sawyer in a Journey Across the Plains.

MAY 9 TO AUGUST 17, 1882.

Revised and Compiled for the Entertainment of the Readers of the Cloverport News.

July 18.—Sabbath day. I have not been feeling well for several days. I have taken cold. My chest is sore and it pains me very much. I am taking medicine for it, and think I will soon be better.

We came to Mary's river, or Humboldt, as some call it, to-day. All the emigrants dread this river, but we found some grass, which is more than we expected, as Mr. Sawyer says that there was very little here when he came out in '40.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 19.—The Digger Indians came to a camp near us last night and stole two horses. The man on guard went to sleep and let the Indians steal the horses. We are the most thieving Indians on this route, and I will be glad when we are out of their range.

We forded the North fork of Mary's river this afternoon. Distance traveled, twenty-nine miles.

July 20.—A company of men went out yesterday in pursuit of those Indians who stole the horses. Neither the water or the weather is good on this river, and the dust is very bad. We forded the river four times to-day, within a distance of ten miles, to avoid going over the hills.

Distance traveled, thirty miles. July 21.—We had a hard march of seventeen miles to-day over the hills without stopping except to water our mules at an excellent cold spring which we found in the hills; had to keep traveling till we came to grass. We forded to the North side of the river and went into camp. We will travel on this side for some distance now, as we were informed by some "packers" to-day that the best grass was on this side.

Distance traveled, twenty-five miles. July 22.—Mr. Sawyer killed another antelope to-day and we are feasting. Game of all kinds is very scarce this year on the road and I have been wishing for some fresh meat for some time. My husband took some of the meat over to another camp near us and made the people a present of it. In return for his kindness the men came over to our camp with a bottle of old whisky and treated our men. These men keep whisky for sale and they retail it at two dollars a drink. That seems like a high price for liquor, but these men have to haul it from the States or from California, over the mountains, across the great desert and up this river to two hundred miles, so you see it is bound to be a costly drink.

We had more mosquitoes to-night, more than we had ever caught up with before. We drove off the road to the river, intending to camp there, but the peaky insects were so bad that we were compelled to abandon the idea of camping. I thought that they would surely eat us and the animals up before we could get back to the river. We traveled till ten o'clock at night before they left us. It turned cold at that time and we pitched our camp.

Distance traveled, thirty-five miles. July 23.—The mosquitoes were so bad this morning that we had to leave camp at daylight without our breakfast. We traveled till the sun got too hot for them, then stopped and cooked our breakfast. They are not quite so bad to-night, Mr. Sawyer is not feeling well to-night.

Distance traveled, twenty-five miles. July 24.—We have laid by this afternoon because Mr. Sawyer is too sick to travel. He has a high fever and a bad headache. His bones all ache and he thinks he has a touch of mountain fever. He is doctored by his day and hopes to be better soon. This is the worst place on the trip to be sick. The weather is bad, the water is not good and the mosquitoes annoy you to death of nights.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 25, Sabbath day. My husband is better to-day, though he don't feel any too good yet.

We had the good fortune to get a camp sight where there are no mosquitoes. Distance traveled, twenty-three miles.

July 26.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 27.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

ORIENTAL NEWS.

Rev. Crocker Writes Another Interesting Letter From the Land of Opium Smokers.

Dresses in Native Costume and Lives in Native Houses with Modern Furniture.

Sends Greeting to the Irvington Brethren and Asks for Their Prayers.

GETTING TO HIS WORK.

CHEFOO, NORTH CHINA, Dec. 26, 1882.—Dear Brethren, I sent you a letter from Shanghai, but as I have now come to my place of work I will send you a few more lines. We arrived at Chefoo, a little more than a week ago and after five days' travel find ourselves here in Pingto, 150 miles inland from Chefoo.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 20.—Our road is better on this side of the river than it was on the other.

We had a nice shower of rain this afternoon and we had them for supper. Mr. Sawyer ate heartily and says he thinks they will cure him.

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 21.—We had a march of eighteen miles this morning, without water or grass. Forged the river for the last time to the North side and we will travel on this side to the sink.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 22.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 23.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 24.—We made a start across the great desert this morning, a little earlier than usual, and as Mr. Sawyer thought the old Truckee route, but in about six miles we came to an alkali pond, which it was impossible to cross. We then went over to the Chefoo route. This mistake tried our mules that much more than they ought to have been, but we traveled slowly to save them all we could.

We stopped at noon and fed them, then went on until sundown, when we stopped again and had and cooked some supper with the remains of an old wagon, as fuel. We stopped at a trading post in the afternoon, bought up some food for the mules, paying seventy-five cents a gallon for it. The gentleman who keeps the post, sent me a glass of port wine, and I drank it with good grace, for I was tired.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 25.—We started again at dark and traveled till midnight when our mules commenced falling fast, stopped and fed them and bought six buckets more of water, paying one dollar a bucket for it. I thought for sure that we would not get our teams through, for they had traveled miles with a heavy load. Ben got in the carriage with me, while Mr. Sawyer and Buke Hall walked on each side of the four-mile team, driving and whipping them up, but they stopped and fed them. Ben and I were in front and as I heard the whips popping and cracking, I sincerely pitied the poor beasts at my heart. But when we came in sight of the Carson river, my mules struck up like mad and started off in a fast walk, and the other mules followed suit. I was afraid my mule would run right into the river, but we so hard on the reins that we did not. We arrived at Ragtown, on the Carson river, about sunset this morning.

Distance traveled, forty miles since we started. This desert and lower part of Mary's river have been the worst sections of our trip and I am glad that we are out of them safe. Though the desert is easier to cross this year than it has ever been before. There are seven or eight trading posts on it now, where refreshments and supplies of all kinds are kept for sale. There are also some trading posts here on Carson river.

August 3.—We went up the Carson river five miles from Ragtown and camped for the remainder of the day. We bought some fresh beef, and we cooked and ate it. We had a very good dinner on beefsteak to-day.

Distance traveled, five miles. CONTINUED NEXT WEEK.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 26.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 27.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 28.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 29.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 30.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 31.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. August 1.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. August 2.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. August 3.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

ORIENTAL NEWS.

Rev. Crocker Writes Another Interesting Letter From the Land of Opium Smokers.

Dresses in Native Costume and Lives in Native Houses with Modern Furniture.

Sends Greeting to the Irvington Brethren and Asks for Their Prayers.

GETTING TO HIS WORK.

CHEFOO, NORTH CHINA, Dec. 26, 1882.—Dear Brethren, I sent you a letter from Shanghai, but as I have now come to my place of work I will send you a few more lines. We arrived at Chefoo, a little more than a week ago and after five days' travel find ourselves here in Pingto, 150 miles inland from Chefoo.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 20.—Our road is better on this side of the river than it was on the other.

We had a nice shower of rain this afternoon and we had them for supper. Mr. Sawyer ate heartily and says he thinks they will cure him.

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 21.—We had a march of eighteen miles this morning, without water or grass. Forged the river for the last time to the North side and we will travel on this side to the sink.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 22.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 23.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 24.—We made a start across the great desert this morning, a little earlier than usual, and as Mr. Sawyer thought the old Truckee route, but in about six miles we came to an alkali pond, which it was impossible to cross. We then went over to the Chefoo route. This mistake tried our mules that much more than they ought to have been, but we traveled slowly to save them all we could.

We stopped at noon and fed them, then went on until sundown, when we stopped again and had and cooked some supper with the remains of an old wagon, as fuel. We stopped at a trading post in the afternoon, bought up some food for the mules, paying seventy-five cents a gallon for it. The gentleman who keeps the post, sent me a glass of port wine, and I drank it with good grace, for I was tired.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 25.—We started again at dark and traveled till midnight when our mules commenced falling fast, stopped and fed them and bought six buckets more of water, paying one dollar a bucket for it. I thought for sure that we would not get our teams through, for they had traveled miles with a heavy load. Ben got in the carriage with me, while Mr. Sawyer and Buke Hall walked on each side of the four-mile team, driving and whipping them up, but they stopped and fed them. Ben and I were in front and as I heard the whips popping and cracking, I sincerely pitied the poor beasts at my heart. But when we came in sight of the Carson river, my mules struck up like mad and started off in a fast walk, and the other mules followed suit. I was afraid my mule would run right into the river, but we so hard on the reins that we did not. We arrived at Ragtown, on the Carson river, about sunset this morning.

Distance traveled, forty miles since we started. This desert and lower part of Mary's river have been the worst sections of our trip and I am glad that we are out of them safe. Though the desert is easier to cross this year than it has ever been before. There are seven or eight trading posts on it now, where refreshments and supplies of all kinds are kept for sale. There are also some trading posts here on Carson river.

August 3.—We went up the Carson river five miles from Ragtown and camped for the remainder of the day. We bought some fresh beef, and we cooked and ate it. We had a very good dinner on beefsteak to-day.

Distance traveled, five miles. CONTINUED NEXT WEEK.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 26.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 27.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 28.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 29.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 30.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 31.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. August 1.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. August 2.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. August 3.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

ORIENTAL NEWS.

Rev. Crocker Writes Another Interesting Letter From the Land of Opium Smokers.

Dresses in Native Costume and Lives in Native Houses with Modern Furniture.

Sends Greeting to the Irvington Brethren and Asks for Their Prayers.

GETTING TO HIS WORK.

CHEFOO, NORTH CHINA, Dec. 26, 1882.—Dear Brethren, I sent you a letter from Shanghai, but as I have now come to my place of work I will send you a few more lines. We arrived at Chefoo, a little more than a week ago and after five days' travel find ourselves here in Pingto, 150 miles inland from Chefoo.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 20.—Our road is better on this side of the river than it was on the other.

We had a nice shower of rain this afternoon and we had them for supper. Mr. Sawyer ate heartily and says he thinks they will cure him.

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 21.—We had a march of eighteen miles this morning, without water or grass. Forged the river for the last time to the North side and we will travel on this side to the sink.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 22.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 23.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 24.—We made a start across the great desert this morning, a little earlier than usual, and as Mr. Sawyer thought the old Truckee route, but in about six miles we came to an alkali pond, which it was impossible to cross. We then went over to the Chefoo route. This mistake tried our mules that much more than they ought to have been, but we traveled slowly to save them all we could.

We stopped at noon and fed them, then went on until sundown, when we stopped again and had and cooked some supper with the remains of an old wagon, as fuel. We stopped at a trading post in the afternoon, bought up some food for the mules, paying seventy-five cents a gallon for it. The gentleman who keeps the post, sent me a glass of port wine, and I drank it with good grace, for I was tired.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 25.—We started again at dark and traveled till midnight when our mules commenced falling fast, stopped and fed them and bought six buckets more of water, paying one dollar a bucket for it. I thought for sure that we would not get our teams through, for they had traveled miles with a heavy load. Ben got in the carriage with me, while Mr. Sawyer and Buke Hall walked on each side of the four-mile team, driving and whipping them up, but they stopped and fed them. Ben and I were in front and as I heard the whips popping and cracking, I sincerely pitied the poor beasts at my heart. But when we came in sight of the Carson river, my mules struck up like mad and started off in a fast walk, and the other mules followed suit. I was afraid my mule would run right into the river, but we so hard on the reins that we did not. We arrived at Ragtown, on the Carson river, about sunset this morning.

Distance traveled, forty miles since we started. This desert and lower part of Mary's river have been the worst sections of our trip and I am glad that we are out of them safe. Though the desert is easier to cross this year than it has ever been before. There are seven or eight trading posts on it now, where refreshments and supplies of all kinds are kept for sale. There are also some trading posts here on Carson river.

August 3.—We went up the Carson river five miles from Ragtown and camped for the remainder of the day. We bought some fresh beef, and we cooked and ate it. We had a very good dinner on beefsteak to-day.

Distance traveled, five miles. CONTINUED NEXT WEEK.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 26.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 27.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 28.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 29.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 30.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 31.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. August 1.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. August 2.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. August 3.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

ORIENTAL NEWS.

Rev. Crocker Writes Another Interesting Letter From the Land of Opium Smokers.

Dresses in Native Costume and Lives in Native Houses with Modern Furniture.

Sends Greeting to the Irvington Brethren and Asks for Their Prayers.

GETTING TO HIS WORK.

CHEFOO, NORTH CHINA, Dec. 26, 1882.—Dear Brethren, I sent you a letter from Shanghai, but as I have now come to my place of work I will send you a few more lines. We arrived at Chefoo, a little more than a week ago and after five days' travel find ourselves here in Pingto, 150 miles inland from Chefoo.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 20.—Our road is better on this side of the river than it was on the other.

We had a nice shower of rain this afternoon and we had them for supper. Mr. Sawyer ate heartily and says he thinks they will cure him.

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 21.—We had a march of eighteen miles this morning, without water or grass. Forged the river for the last time to the North side and we will travel on this side to the sink.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 22.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 23.—Arrived at the noted Meakoon, which is a very curious place of occurrence here at this season of the year. It settled the dust and was very refreshing.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 24.—We made a start across the great desert this morning, a little earlier than usual, and as Mr. Sawyer thought the old Truckee route, but in about six miles we came to an alkali pond, which it was impossible to cross. We then went over to the Chefoo route. This mistake tried our mules that much more than they ought to have been, but we traveled slowly to save them all we could.

We stopped at noon and fed them, then went on until sundown, when we stopped again and had and cooked some supper with the remains of an old wagon, as fuel. We stopped at a trading post in the afternoon, bought up some food for the mules, paying seventy-five cents a gallon for it. The gentleman who keeps the post, sent me a glass of port wine, and I drank it with good grace, for I was tired.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 25.—We started again at dark and traveled till midnight when our mules commenced falling fast, stopped and fed them and bought six buckets more of water, paying one dollar a bucket for it. I thought for sure that we would not get our teams through, for they had traveled miles with a heavy load. Ben got in the carriage with me, while Mr. Sawyer and Buke Hall walked on each side of the four-mile team, driving and whipping them up, but they stopped and fed them. Ben and I were in front and as I heard the whips popping and cracking, I sincerely pitied the poor beasts at my heart. But when we came in sight of the Carson river, my mules struck up like mad and started off in a fast walk, and the other mules followed suit. I was afraid my mule would run right into the river, but we so hard on the reins that we did not. We arrived at Ragtown, on the Carson river, about sunset this morning.

Distance traveled, forty miles since we started. This desert and lower part of Mary's river have been the worst sections of our trip and I am glad that we are out of them safe. Though the desert is easier to cross this year than it has ever been before. There are seven or eight trading posts on it now, where refreshments and supplies of all kinds are kept for sale. There are also some trading posts here on Carson river.

August 3.—We went up the Carson river five miles from Ragtown and camped for the remainder of the day. We bought some fresh beef, and we cooked and ate it. We had a very good dinner on beefsteak to-day.

Distance traveled, five miles. CONTINUED NEXT WEEK.

Distance traveled, twenty miles. July 26.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 27.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 28.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

Distance traveled, twenty-two miles. July 29.—We passed a bad spring to-day and were informed that it was one hundred miles from there to the sink of this river—and would I be glad to see the end sink out of sight!

Distance traveled, twenty-three miles. July 30.—They changed my carriage mule into the wagon today and put one of the wagon mules into the carriage. I did not admire the change, but submitted, and, sure enough, had luck came of it. While crossing a slough the mule I was driving mired down and before they could unharness him, he began jumping and kicking and broke one of the shafts and the carriage. I was so sorry that I felt like crying, for I thought that we would have to leave my carriage behind. However, Mr. Sawyer went to work and mended it, so that now it is almost as stout as it ever was.

March.

SUNDAY	4 11 18 25
MONDAY	5 12 19 26
TUESDAY	6 13 20 27
WEDNESDAY	7 14 21 28
THURSDAY	1 8 15 22 29
FRIDAY	2 9 16 23 30
SATURDAY	3 10 17 24 31

• NEW MOON 10 15 18 21 AM
• FIRST QUARTER 11 18 21 AM
• FULL MOON 20 11 17 AM
• LAST QUARTER 29 10 22 AM

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 1904.

NEARING THE END.

The Legislature is winding up its Great and Laborious Work

And the Members Are Preparing to Bid Adieu and Wend Their Homeward Way.

The Senate is about Done. But the House Will Leave Unfinished Business.

The Charter for Second Class Cities and Other Delayed Bills Go Through.

A FEW MORE DAYS.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Mar. 5.—(Special.)—Several bills were passed by the Senate today and that putting Finneville in the fifth class was one of them. This bill was refused an action in the House, but with the sanction of the Senate it will now be brought before that body again. The bill classifying cities and towns was passed.

The bill appropriating $2,500 for additional clerical help in the Auditor's office was also passed.

Mr. Martin's bill requiring foreign insurance companies doing business in this State, to pay, before or supercede judgments rendered against them passed without a dissenting voice. Companies failing to comply with the provisions of this law shall be suspended by the Insurance Commissioner.

Mr. Salzer had his bill relating to the assessment of property belonging to non-residents, called up and it was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Monday, March 5.—The Reform school bill, which has passed the Senate was today discussed in the House. Judge Sims favored the bill, while Gen. Hanks opposed it. The bill will come up from day to day until disposed of.

Meers Weaver, Tompkins and Seay were appointed a committee to confer with one to be appointed by the Senate for the purpose of adjusting the differences regarding the Equalization Board bill.

Mr. Burkhead, of Daviess, offered a resolution requesting the State Examiner to investigate the Jailers, Sheriffs, Clerks and Master Commissioners who have failed to submit a report to the Auditor. The resolution was adopted.

THE SENATE.
Tuesday, March 6.—Early this morning a request from House members to withdraw the Husband and Wife bill created quite a "furore" in the Senate. They wanted the bill for the purpose of making some changes in the amendments. Senator Grove, Martin and others resisted the effort to recall the bill and Senator Wever headed the other side. The Gross side finally had to break the quorum to keep the bill from going out.

The Senate sustained the Governor's veto of the bill allowing the Trustees of the Jury Fund to anticipate the jury fees and draw the same in advance for the purpose of paying jurors as soon as their services were rendered, though Senator Fulton, the author of the bill, made a strong argument in favor of it and over the veto.

The Conference Committee on the State Board of Equalization reported in favor of Senator Ellis's amendment, which limits the time of meeting of the board to once in four years and their jurisdiction to real estate only. The report was adopted.

By reading from some amendments and concurring in others the Senate passed the charter for second class cities. The charter is amended that it is acceptable to the cities affected by it and as friends of the charter have frequently consulted the Governor it is thought that it will be readily signed by him and become a law.

The bill requiring peddlers to pay license and the bill requiring occupants of shanty boats to pay license were passed. Another big rumpus was raised when Senator Grosz bill to repeal the present primary election law, was called up.

After a spirited discussion it was passed by a vote of 10 to 12. It will probably be warmly contested in the House and its chances for getting through this session are slim, though it is generally conceded to be a good bill.

THE HOUSE.
Tuesday, March 6.—The bill providing for the establishment of two industrial schools was discussed during the entire morning session and the adjournment came while the vote was being taken.

The House passed the charter for second class cities early in the afternoon session.

Several bills were advanced to a second reading.

The bill relating to stray stock was amended and passed. It provides that a "stray" must be kept for four months and then sold.

THE SENATE.
Wednesday, March 7.—Nothing of great importance was done in the Senate today.

Mr. Froman's bill, relating to revenue, taxation, and assessments, was passed by a unanimous vote.

The vote by which the bill increasing the salary of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Court of Appeals was defeated, was reconsidered and the bill passed.

THE HOUSE.
Wednesday, March 7.—The bill to establish reform schools occupied the time of the House again today. The friends of the bill were out voted and the bill was recommitted. This practically kills it and it is not likely to become a law.

Mr. Alice Brown and daughter, Nellie, went to Long Branch Wednesday to visit her son, Dooley.

Miss Katie Burkhart, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gus Dowell, for some time, returned to Bewellville Monday.

Mrs. Belle Payne and Miss Mattie Taylor, Owensboro, are visiting at Mr. J. T. Jones. Miss Taylor will teach music here this spring.

THE SENATE.
Thursday, March 8.—The Senate adopted the report of the Attorney General Investigating Committee, which practically clears the skirts of Mr. Hendricks.

The report of the Conference Committee appointed to adjust the differences in the Husband and Wife bill was rejected by the Senate.

The bill prohibiting medical colleges from conferring the degree of M. D. upon others than students completing a three-year course, was defeated.

The bill appropriating $1,000 for marking the grave of Joel T. Hart, the Kentucky sculptor, was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Thursday, March 8.—The House did nothing today, only clear a batch of rubbish from the calendar.

THE SENATE.
Friday, March 9.—The Senate held two sessions today but did not do much in both as could have been done in an hour of active work. Evidence of the adjournment are beginning to show themselves and the members are inclined to feel like school children on the last day of school approaches.

A bill regulating elections in small towns and the bill regulating weights and measures were passed.

The bill relating to country policemen was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Friday, March 9.—A bill to increase the allowance to the Insurance Bureau, $3,000, was passed in the House this morning.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

BRANDENBURG.

THE SENATE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Senate passed one little bill today and then most of the Senators visited the House to watch the fight on the Husband and Wife bill.

It met in the afternoon and immediately adjourned till Monday.

THE HOUSE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Husband and Wife bill came up this morning and after the House convened and a pretty fight was declared on. Filibustering and all kinds of parliamentary tactics were resorted to by those who opposed the bill and it was delayed for many hours. A quorum was frequently broken, though the roll call on some amendments showed that a sufficient number of Representatives were present to transact business.

The Senators all left their hall and came over to watch the battle, and the galleries were crowded with visitors, many of them from distant parts of the State.

The bill was finally passed by a vote of 50 to 1, and the only thing that may keep it from becoming a law will be the breaking of a quorum in the Senate when that body calls it up for comparison, though this is hardly probable.

THE SENATE.
Elderly people number their spring bitters with a shudder. The past generation have much to be thankful for not the least of their blessings being such a pleasant and thoroughly effective spring medicine as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a health-restorer and health-maintainer.

THE HOUSE.
The bill requiring peddlers to pay license and the bill requiring occupants of shanty boats to pay license were passed. Another big rumpus was raised when Senator Grosz bill to repeal the present primary election law, was called up.

After a spirited discussion it was passed by a vote of 10 to 12. It will probably be warmly contested in the House and its chances for getting through this session are slim, though it is generally conceded to be a good bill.

THE SENATE.
Tuesday, March 6.—The bill providing for the establishment of two industrial schools was discussed during the entire morning session and the adjournment came while the vote was being taken.

The House passed the charter for second class cities early in the afternoon session.

Several bills were advanced to a second reading.

The bill relating to stray stock was amended and passed. It provides that a "stray" must be kept for four months and then sold.

THE SENATE.
Wednesday, March 7.—Nothing of great importance was done in the Senate today.

Mr. Froman's bill, relating to revenue, taxation, and assessments, was passed by a unanimous vote.

The vote by which the bill increasing the salary of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Court of Appeals was defeated, was reconsidered and the bill passed.

THE HOUSE.
Wednesday, March 7.—The bill to establish reform schools occupied the time of the House again today. The friends of the bill were out voted and the bill was recommitted. This practically kills it and it is not likely to become a law.

Mr. Alice Brown and daughter, Nellie, went to Long Branch Wednesday to visit her son, Dooley.

Miss Katie Burkhart, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gus Dowell, for some time, returned to Bewellville Monday.

Mrs. Belle Payne and Miss Mattie Taylor, Owensboro, are visiting at Mr. J. T. Jones. Miss Taylor will teach music here this spring.

THE SENATE.
Thursday, March 8.—The Senate adopted the report of the Attorney General Investigating Committee, which practically clears the skirts of Mr. Hendricks.

The report of the Conference Committee appointed to adjust the differences in the Husband and Wife bill was rejected by the Senate.

The bill prohibiting medical colleges from conferring the degree of M. D. upon others than students completing a three-year course, was defeated.

The bill appropriating $1,000 for marking the grave of Joel T. Hart, the Kentucky sculptor, was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Thursday, March 8.—The House did nothing today, only clear a batch of rubbish from the calendar.

THE SENATE.
Friday, March 9.—The Senate held two sessions today but did not do much in both as could have been done in an hour of active work. Evidence of the adjournment are beginning to show themselves and the members are inclined to feel like school children on the last day of school approaches.

A bill regulating elections in small towns and the bill regulating weights and measures were passed.

The bill relating to country policemen was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Friday, March 9.—A bill to increase the allowance to the Insurance Bureau, $3,000, was passed in the House this morning.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

BRANDENBURG.

THE SENATE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Senate passed one little bill today and then most of the Senators visited the House to watch the fight on the Husband and Wife bill.

It met in the afternoon and immediately adjourned till Monday.

THE HOUSE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Husband and Wife bill came up this morning and after the House convened and a pretty fight was declared on. Filibustering and all kinds of parliamentary tactics were resorted to by those who opposed the bill and it was delayed for many hours. A quorum was frequently broken, though the roll call on some amendments showed that a sufficient number of Representatives were present to transact business.

The Senators all left their hall and came over to watch the battle, and the galleries were crowded with visitors, many of them from distant parts of the State.

The bill was finally passed by a vote of 50 to 1, and the only thing that may keep it from becoming a law will be the breaking of a quorum in the Senate when that body calls it up for comparison, though this is hardly probable.

THE SENATE.
Elderly people number their spring bitters with a shudder. The past generation have much to be thankful for not the least of their blessings being such a pleasant and thoroughly effective spring medicine as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a health-restorer and health-maintainer.

THE HOUSE.
The bill requiring peddlers to pay license and the bill requiring occupants of shanty boats to pay license were passed. Another big rumpus was raised when Senator Grosz bill to repeal the present primary election law, was called up.

After a spirited discussion it was passed by a vote of 10 to 12. It will probably be warmly contested in the House and its chances for getting through this session are slim, though it is generally conceded to be a good bill.

THE SENATE.
Tuesday, March 6.—The bill providing for the establishment of two industrial schools was discussed during the entire morning session and the adjournment came while the vote was being taken.

The House passed the charter for second class cities early in the afternoon session.

Several bills were advanced to a second reading.

The bill relating to stray stock was amended and passed. It provides that a "stray" must be kept for four months and then sold.

THE SENATE.
Wednesday, March 7.—Nothing of great importance was done in the Senate today.

Mr. Froman's bill, relating to revenue, taxation, and assessments, was passed by a unanimous vote.

The vote by which the bill increasing the salary of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Court of Appeals was defeated, was reconsidered and the bill passed.

THE HOUSE.
Wednesday, March 7.—The bill to establish reform schools occupied the time of the House again today. The friends of the bill were out voted and the bill was recommitted. This practically kills it and it is not likely to become a law.

Mr. Alice Brown and daughter, Nellie, went to Long Branch Wednesday to visit her son, Dooley.

Miss Katie Burkhart, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gus Dowell, for some time, returned to Bewellville Monday.

Mrs. Belle Payne and Miss Mattie Taylor, Owensboro, are visiting at Mr. J. T. Jones. Miss Taylor will teach music here this spring.

THE SENATE.
Thursday, March 8.—The Senate adopted the report of the Attorney General Investigating Committee, which practically clears the skirts of Mr. Hendricks.

The report of the Conference Committee appointed to adjust the differences in the Husband and Wife bill was rejected by the Senate.

The bill prohibiting medical colleges from conferring the degree of M. D. upon others than students completing a three-year course, was defeated.

The bill appropriating $1,000 for marking the grave of Joel T. Hart, the Kentucky sculptor, was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Thursday, March 8.—The House did nothing today, only clear a batch of rubbish from the calendar.

THE SENATE.
Friday, March 9.—The Senate held two sessions today but did not do much in both as could have been done in an hour of active work. Evidence of the adjournment are beginning to show themselves and the members are inclined to feel like school children on the last day of school approaches.

A bill regulating elections in small towns and the bill regulating weights and measures were passed.

The bill relating to country policemen was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Friday, March 9.—A bill to increase the allowance to the Insurance Bureau, $3,000, was passed in the House this morning.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

BRANDENBURG.

THE SENATE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Senate passed one little bill today and then most of the Senators visited the House to watch the fight on the Husband and Wife bill.

It met in the afternoon and immediately adjourned till Monday.

THE HOUSE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Husband and Wife bill came up this morning and after the House convened and a pretty fight was declared on. Filibustering and all kinds of parliamentary tactics were resorted to by those who opposed the bill and it was delayed for many hours. A quorum was frequently broken, though the roll call on some amendments showed that a sufficient number of Representatives were present to transact business.

The Senators all left their hall and came over to watch the battle, and the galleries were crowded with visitors, many of them from distant parts of the State.

The bill was finally passed by a vote of 50 to 1, and the only thing that may keep it from becoming a law will be the breaking of a quorum in the Senate when that body calls it up for comparison, though this is hardly probable.

THE SENATE.
Elderly people number their spring bitters with a shudder. The past generation have much to be thankful for not the least of their blessings being such a pleasant and thoroughly effective spring medicine as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a health-restorer and health-maintainer.

THE HOUSE.
The bill requiring peddlers to pay license and the bill requiring occupants of shanty boats to pay license were passed. Another big rumpus was raised when Senator Grosz bill to repeal the present primary election law, was called up.

After a spirited discussion it was passed by a vote of 10 to 12. It will probably be warmly contested in the House and its chances for getting through this session are slim, though it is generally conceded to be a good bill.

THE SENATE.
Tuesday, March 6.—The bill providing for the establishment of two industrial schools was discussed during the entire morning session and the adjournment came while the vote was being taken.

The House passed the charter for second class cities early in the afternoon session.

Several bills were advanced to a second reading.

The bill relating to stray stock was amended and passed. It provides that a "stray" must be kept for four months and then sold.

THE SENATE.
Wednesday, March 7.—Nothing of great importance was done in the Senate today.

Mr. Froman's bill, relating to revenue, taxation, and assessments, was passed by a unanimous vote.

The vote by which the bill increasing the salary of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Court of Appeals was defeated, was reconsidered and the bill passed.

THE HOUSE.
Wednesday, March 7.—The bill to establish reform schools occupied the time of the House again today. The friends of the bill were out voted and the bill was recommitted. This practically kills it and it is not likely to become a law.

Mr. Alice Brown and daughter, Nellie, went to Long Branch Wednesday to visit her son, Dooley.

Miss Katie Burkhart, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gus Dowell, for some time, returned to Bewellville Monday.

Mrs. Belle Payne and Miss Mattie Taylor, Owensboro, are visiting at Mr. J. T. Jones. Miss Taylor will teach music here this spring.

THE SENATE.
Thursday, March 8.—The Senate adopted the report of the Attorney General Investigating Committee, which practically clears the skirts of Mr. Hendricks.

The report of the Conference Committee appointed to adjust the differences in the Husband and Wife bill was rejected by the Senate.

The bill prohibiting medical colleges from conferring the degree of M. D. upon others than students completing a three-year course, was defeated.

The bill appropriating $1,000 for marking the grave of Joel T. Hart, the Kentucky sculptor, was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Thursday, March 8.—The House did nothing today, only clear a batch of rubbish from the calendar.

THE SENATE.
Friday, March 9.—The Senate held two sessions today but did not do much in both as could have been done in an hour of active work. Evidence of the adjournment are beginning to show themselves and the members are inclined to feel like school children on the last day of school approaches.

A bill regulating elections in small towns and the bill regulating weights and measures were passed.

The bill relating to country policemen was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Friday, March 9.—A bill to increase the allowance to the Insurance Bureau, $3,000, was passed in the House this morning.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

BRANDENBURG.

THE SENATE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Senate passed one little bill today and then most of the Senators visited the House to watch the fight on the Husband and Wife bill.

It met in the afternoon and immediately adjourned till Monday.

THE HOUSE.
Saturday, March 10.—The Husband and Wife bill came up this morning and after the House convened and a pretty fight was declared on. Filibustering and all kinds of parliamentary tactics were resorted to by those who opposed the bill and it was delayed for many hours. A quorum was frequently broken, though the roll call on some amendments showed that a sufficient number of Representatives were present to transact business.

The Senators all left their hall and came over to watch the battle, and the galleries were crowded with visitors, many of them from distant parts of the State.

The bill was finally passed by a vote of 50 to 1, and the only thing that may keep it from becoming a law will be the breaking of a quorum in the Senate when that body calls it up for comparison, though this is hardly probable.

THE SENATE.
Elderly people number their spring bitters with a shudder. The past generation have much to be thankful for not the least of their blessings being such a pleasant and thoroughly effective spring medicine as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a health-restorer and health-maintainer.

THE HOUSE.
The bill requiring peddlers to pay license and the bill requiring occupants of shanty boats to pay license were passed. Another big rumpus was raised when Senator Grosz bill to repeal the present primary election law, was called up.

After a spirited discussion it was passed by a vote of 10 to 12. It will probably be warmly contested in the House and its chances for getting through this session are slim, though it is generally conceded to be a good bill.

THE SENATE.
Tuesday, March 6.—The bill providing for the establishment of two industrial schools was discussed during the entire morning session and the adjournment came while the vote was being taken.

The House passed the charter for second class cities early in the afternoon session.

Several bills were advanced to a second reading.

The bill relating to stray stock was amended and passed. It provides that a "stray" must be kept for four months and then sold.

THE SENATE.
Wednesday, March 7.—Nothing of great importance was done in the Senate today.

Mr. Froman's bill, relating to revenue, taxation, and assessments, was passed by a unanimous vote.

The vote by which the bill increasing the salary of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Court of Appeals was defeated, was reconsidered and the bill passed.

THE HOUSE.
Wednesday, March 7.—The bill to establish reform schools occupied the time of the House again today. The friends of the bill were out voted and the bill was recommitted. This practically kills it and it is not likely to become a law.

Mr. Alice Brown and daughter, Nellie, went to Long Branch Wednesday to visit her son, Dooley.

Miss Katie Burkhart, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gus Dowell, for some time, returned to Bewellville Monday.

Mrs. Belle Payne and Miss Mattie Taylor, Owensboro, are visiting at Mr. J. T. Jones. Miss Taylor will teach music here this spring.

THE SENATE.
Thursday, March 8.—The Senate adopted the report of the Attorney General Investigating Committee, which practically clears the skirts of Mr. Hendricks.

The report of the Conference Committee appointed to adjust the differences in the Husband and Wife bill was rejected by the Senate.

The bill prohibiting medical colleges from conferring the degree of M. D. upon others than students completing a three-year course, was defeated.

The bill appropriating $1,000 for marking the grave of Joel T. Hart, the Kentucky sculptor, was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Thursday, March 8.—The House did nothing today, only clear a batch of rubbish from the calendar.

THE SENATE.
Friday, March 9.—The Senate held two sessions today but did not do much in both as could have been done in an hour of active work. Evidence of the adjournment are beginning to show themselves and the members are inclined to feel like school children on the last day of school approaches.

A bill regulating elections in small towns and the bill regulating weights and measures were passed.

The bill relating to country policemen was passed.

THE HOUSE.
Friday, March 9.—A bill to increase the allowance to the Insurance Bureau, $3,000, was passed in the House this morning.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

The husband and wife bill was discussed from the House today and it bids fair to become a law yet.

W. L. DOUGLAS.

THE BEST KNOCK FOR THE LOST MINISTRY

I am
One inch high.
I am
Perfectly Upright.
I am
Quite Handsome.
People
Who have seen me say I am very stylish.
Come
And see me at Cloverport.
Jno. D. Babbage.
Will sell my Saturday March 17th,
for 10 cents.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS. WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 1894.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Babbage's for writing paper.
Pure maple sugar at the City Bakery.
Frank Ballman spent Sunday at Holt.
Have you a bicycle? If not, get one now.
House cleaning time—use bon ami—Sulzer's.
Mrs. R. L. Newson went to Louisville last week.
Ed Whitehead, of Rome, came down Monday.
Box paper in all the new styles at Babbage's.
Have you pulled your garden weeds?
Try Sulzer's.
Mr. J. C. Bell, of Lewisport, was in the city Sunday.
A friendly word—Sulzer's have a nice lot of rubbers.
Eugene Goff returned to St. Louis Monday night.
The very latest patterns and shapes in underwear at Babbage's.
Jesse Graham has accepted a position as brakeman on the Texas.
O. T. Skillman made a business trip to Owensboro last Saturday.
Fresh fruits, oranges, lemons, lemons and figs at the City Bakery.
Try our sweet cider. It is the best you ever drank.—City Bakery.
Fishing made easy—use one of our fish nets with "Sulzer's".
Prof. J. Owen Cunningham, of Stephensonport, was in the city Sunday.
Mrs. John Staton, of Rosetta, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. N. C. Nicholas.
Miss Adelle Dittol will leave next Friday, the 16th inst., for Brandenburg.
Have you seen our new line of ties? Come in and let us try you.—Sulzer's.
Join in and go to Sulzer's family grocery for jams, fruits, preserves and pickles.
Catch on to this hump! Get a hump on you and get a bicycle.—Sulzer's.

A new and novel display in our show window next week—watch it!—Sulzer's.
Wm. Downs, of Kirk, was in town last week, and sold a very fine young horse to Dr. Newson.
The Brazilian trouble does not interfere with the growing coffee trade at Sulzer's.
The survival of the fittest is a natural result of the fitter at Sulzer's Clothing Department.
Bald Head Protectors—Just arrived—see them all—don't rest until you see them.—Sulzer's.
Protracted meeting is in progress at the Elm-street Methodist church. Considerable interest seems to be manifested. The steamer "Frisco" touched here early Monday morning and took a large number of staves for the Cincinnati Cooperage Company.

Go to Blythe Bros., closing out sale, Saturday, March 17, to buy good stock cheap and hear the plea of the county candidates.
Beautiful new spring wall paper at T. F. Sawyer's. Good paper at 3¢, 4¢, 5¢, 6¢, 7¢, 8¢, 9¢, 10¢, 11¢, 12¢, 13¢, 14¢, 15¢, 16¢, 17¢, 18¢, 19¢, 20¢, 21¢, 22¢, 23¢, 24¢, 25¢, 26¢, 27¢, 28¢, 29¢, 30¢, 31¢, 32¢, 33¢, 34¢, 35¢, 36¢, 37¢, 38¢, 39¢, 40¢, 41¢, 42¢, 43¢, 44¢, 45¢, 46¢, 47¢, 48¢, 49¢, 50¢, 51¢, 52¢, 53¢, 54¢, 55¢, 56¢, 57¢, 58¢, 59¢, 60¢, 61¢, 62¢, 63¢, 64¢, 65¢, 66¢, 67¢, 68¢, 69¢, 70¢, 71¢, 72¢, 73¢, 74¢, 75¢, 76¢, 77¢, 78¢, 79¢, 80¢, 81¢, 82¢, 83¢, 84¢, 85¢, 86¢, 87¢, 88¢, 89¢, 90¢, 91¢, 92¢, 93¢, 94¢, 95¢, 96¢, 97¢, 98¢, 99¢, 100¢.
Miss Leila Jolly, of Jolly's Station, who has been the guest of the Wilsons for several days, returned home last Saturday.
Miss Mabel White, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. G. Harris, in this city, for quite a while, returned to her home in Michigan last week.
Glover Frymire, of Preston, passed through the city Monday, en route to Batesville to see his brother, Dr. R. W. Frymire, and stopped to make a pleasant call at the News office.

Chas. Lashen, our popular butcher, says he has been in his business 18 years and not until last week has he slaughtered an animal too fat for his customers. The beef was purchased of the Blythe Bros.
Mr. C. M. Ballitt and wife, of Louisville, were in the city Sunday, looking after their residence on Fort Hill. Mr. Ballitt will repair same and move his family here to spend the summer months.
Gregory & Co. are sole agents for the "Clover Leaf" Bone Meal also for the "Mineral Home" Fertilizer. Both of these brands are reliable and well-known, and you take no risk in buying them.

The alley between Wall and Second and Elm and Poplar streets has been ordered by the Board of Health to be cleaned out. This alley is the most filthy place in town and in its present condition it would be capable of breeding most any disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.
Indigestion, flatulence, heartburn, acid, biliousness, headache, dizziness, nervousness, general debility, and all the ailments arising from a disordered stomach, are cured by Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure".

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

Babbage's for neckwear.
Neckwear—neckwear at Babbage's.
See our new dress goods—Sulzer's.
New lettuce, kale, heads, onions at Sulzer's.
The best shirts for the money at Babbage's.
Short & Haynes for oils, paints, brushes etc.
Next line of toilet soap at Short & Haynes.
Mince meat and pickles at the City Bakery.
James G. Harris spent Sunday in Owensboro.
Morris Beard, of Hardinsburg, was in the city Sunday.
Auction horse sale at Pierce's stable Saturday night.
Miss Sallie Murray of Hardinsburg, is visiting in this city.
Thirteen heavy trains passed over the Texas road Monday.

Handsome room furnishings at bottom prices—T. F. Sawyer.
Born to the wife of Eliza Nicholas, March 7th, a 7-pound boy.
Born to the wife of Alvin Pate, the 1st inst a 11-pound girl.
See our display of suspenders now in our show windows—Sulzer's.
Horses sold cheap for cash at Adkinson's stable Saturday March 17th.

Miss Ella Richardson, of Louisville, is the guest of Miss Jennie Warfield.
W. M. Frymire, Preston, was in the city one day last week on business.
At the sale of the house at S. R. Adkinson's stable Saturday March 17th.
W. S. Smart, of Owensboro, spent the Sabbath with his parents in this city.
Miss Francis Clarkson, Big Spring, is the guest of Miss Forrie Hardin, Holt.

Jesse Miller, who has been in Louisville for several days, returned Monday.
Miss Pearl Miller is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ferry Stephensonport, Ky.
Short & Haynes carry a full and complete line of paint and white wash brushes.
Suspend your notion of buying suspenders until you see our fancy line.—Sulzer's.

First choice is worth being unusually eager about—paints and oils—Short & Haynes.
Cloverport was crowded with people last Saturday and the merchants all had good trades.
The last few days of beautiful spring weather is developing no peach bloom in this vicinity.
Hon. Kargis started to New Orleans last Sunday, which city he will make his permanent home.

Mr. John Adkins, of Patesville, was in the city yesterday and made a pleasant call at the News office.
Farmers needing horses should not miss the sale, which takes place at S. R. Adkinson's stable March 17th.
Stock on exhibition, Thursday till Saturday. Sold at auction Saturday at Pierce's stable, Cloverport, Ky.

Rev. J. T. Rushing, of Elkton, Ky., is conducting the protracted meeting at the Elm-street Methodist church.
25 head of fine brood mares and horses, Illinois stock, will be sold at auction at Pierce's stable Saturday, March 17.
Genial, clever, hustling Carl Richardson, of Union Star, was in the city last Saturday mixing among the voters.
No Montana or Oregon stock, but fine Illinois brood mares and horses, at auction Saturday, March 17. Pierce's stable, Cloverport, Ky.

August Dutchman, of Union Star, passed through the city Thursday, en route to Hancock county in the interest of the Falls City Warehouse.
Four-year-old Illinois brood mares and horses at auction Saturday, March 17, Pierce's stable, Cloverport, Ky. Sale begins at 10 o'clock a. m.
Dr. J. M. Clayton has returned from Mexico, Ky. and will resume his practice in this city. His many friends are glad to welcome him to Cloverport again.

All animals broke for worst—must work for pay—see the notice in the News.
Illinois stock at auction, Pierce's stable, Cloverport, Ky. Saturday, March 17.
Mr. Wm. Franzman and Miss Lillie May Thurman were married March 13th, at the home of the bride's father, W. H. Thurman, Rev. S. G. Shelly officiating.
The recent pretty weather has developed spring fever almost to an epidemic in Cloverport, and the balmy atmosphere has placed the maples and elms in full bloom.

C. D. Henderson, of Webster, was shaking hands with the boys and otherwise making himself pleasant and agreeable, which he always is, in Cloverport Monday.
Some miscreant has scratched the plate glass front of Vot's store with acetone and the officers are on the look out for the trespassers. The glasses cost $50 each.
When you go to Brandenburg, drop in at Geo. Yeakel & Co's. and see their big pile of prints at 5 cents a yard. Just think of it, a beautiful dress pattern for your wife only costs you 50 cents.

A successful protracted meeting is in progress at Hardin's school-house, conducted by Rev. C. S. Japin. There have been thirteen conversions, twenty-seven additions to the church, and people generally are religiously revived.
Mr. Henry Whiteley, aged 76, died at his home near Whitesville, last Thursday, the 8th inst. His funeral took place next day under the direction of the Masons. Mr. Whiteley was a man high up in Masonry, and his funeral was attended by about 75 Masons besides a large assembly of other persons.

Mr. Wm. Hopper has been appointed receiver for the Breckenridge Company, which is the place of J. A. Murray and Percy Hopper is made superintendent in the place of J. R. DeLavan. All persons having business with the company should transact it with these gentlemen.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.
Indigestion, flatulence, heartburn, acid, biliousness, headache, dizziness, nervousness, general debility, and all the ailments arising from a disordered stomach, are cured by Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure".

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

Dr. J. C. Murray's "Dyspepsia Cure" is a powerful medicine, and is the only one of its kind in the world. It is the only one that cures the disease, and is the only one that is safe and reliable. It is the only one that is sold in this country, and is the only one that is sold in this country.

ALMOST ANOTHER

A Big Fire Was Barely Averted in the Thickest Part of Cloverport Last Friday.

The Staple Pulls Out of a Ceiling and Lets a Large Hanging Lamp Come Down.

DESTRUCTION WILL COME.

The citizens of Cloverport were startled by another alarm of fire last Friday evening, but fortunately the flames were extinguished before serious damage was done.

About 6 o'clock p. m. when the lamps were being lighted, a great commotion was heard in Arthur Harris' barber shop, on Wall street, between Elm and Poplar. Men came running out of the shop half shaved, with lather all over their faces followed by negro barbers, yelling and brandishing keen-edged razors over their heads. The citizens in the immediate neighborhood were startled, but not until they discovered clouds of smoke issuing from the doors of the shop, did they learn that it was fire instead of a fight that was causing the commotion.

When the property holders saw this their screams for help were actually pitiful, and men rushed in and extinguished the flames before headway could be gained.

The fire was caused by the staple supporting a large hanging lamp, pulling out of the ceiling and letting the lamp come down with a crash. The oil was soon after and a few moments time was all that was necessary to have wiped out the business portion of Cloverport.

In this square is where the greater part of the business of Cloverport is centered, and with only an occasional exception the largest business houses and wealthiest stores are situated here. The square is perfectly solid with large two and three-story buildings.

The citizens of Cloverport have long realized the fact that if fire ever gets started in this square that the wealth and beauty of the city will be swept away, and it was thinking that the time had come that caused the initial scream for help last Friday evening. But fortunately, the dreaded day of destruction was postponed a little while longer.

Although it is an uncertain matter, sooner or later, it is that the day of judgment is in the future.

GUSTON.
Mr. Jas. Hendrick, of Sandy Hill, is in Louisville.
Mr. C. C. Canoyer came up to church Sunday night.
C. E. Bryant attended church at Irvington Sunday.
C. Helt, of Irvington, was here on business Saturday.

Dr. Walker and Henry Drury, of Louisville, were here Saturday.
Miss Sallie Baskett, of Sandy Hill, visited Mrs. J. R. Baskett last week.
Miss Eva Carrigan and Charlie Patterson attended church at Irvington Sunday.
Mrs. Chas. Smith and daughter, Nellie, of Irvington, visited relatives here Friday.

Mrs. Thos. McCann and Mrs. J. K. Bunkle, of Ekron, made us a short visit last week.
Rev. W. E. Hardaway, of North Platt, Neb., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hardaway.
Mr. Cullon, Irvington's pastor, preached here Saturday evening to a large and attentive audience. We hope to have him visit us again soon.

Mr. Wm. Roth, proprietor of Lewisport Flouring mills, formerly of Chrysler, Ind., was here Saturday looking after business interests, perhaps social interests also, as he spent part of the time renewing his acquaintance with our operator, Miss Kate Z. Morris.

Garrett.
Mr. Ora McCracken, of Flaherty, was visiting here this week.
Mrs. Jas. Ricketts, of Brandenburg, was in town this week.
Mr. John Funk went to Brandenburg last Monday on business.
B. H. Nevitt, candidate for County Clerk was here this week.

Our friends are progressing nicely with Miss Eva Baskett as teacher.
Mrs. W. B. Mattingly was in town this week, the guest of Mrs. Kate Crutcher.
Mr. Tom Simmons, of Grahamstown, has moved near here, on Dr. Wimp's farm.
Dr. J. E. Wimp, of Louisville, was here this week, the guest of Mr. Joe Blair.

Miss Maud Wales, who has been visiting here for sometime has returned to her home.
Mr. Hugh Buckner and sister, Miss Eva, were visiting friends in Garnettsville last Sunday.
Miss Mamie Dougherty, of Ekron, was in town last Sunday the guest of Miss Lulu Crutcher.

In reply to Brandenburg correspondent, I will say that I will write as many letters to the News as possible.

Do not be deceived by substitutes!
Prepared by Scott & Brown, N. Y. 100 Broadway.

WE INVITE NEW SPRING STOCK,

Which is now complete, and beg to add a word with reference to the advantages offered by us. The particular care exercised in the selection and manufacture of all garments, the perfection of pattern and novelty of design, all guarantee the best value at no higher prices than are frequently asked for goods of inferior workmanship.

CONFIRMATION SUITS

In great variety and at all prices. A careful inspection will convince you of their value.

JULIUS WINTER & CO.,
Merchant Tailors, Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
Corner Third and Market Sts.,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

IN THE POND.

The Body of a Brandenburg Lady Was Found Early Yesterday Morning.

Mrs. Wm. Bowling Starts to Visit Her Daughter's Grave and Finds Her Own.

HER MIND WAS DERANGED.

Too late to appear in our regular Brandenburg column, we received the startling news of the death of Mrs. Wm. Bowling at Brandenburg, early yesterday morning. Our correspondent describes the circumstance in substance as follows:

The community of Brandenburg was shocked early this morning to hear that the body of Mrs. Wm. Bowling had been found by her son, Mr. John Bowling, in the pond near the Brandenburg cemetery. As has been mentioned in the Brandenburg column of the News, she had been suffering from nervous prostration, but had improved and was up and going about it. It was palpable to all, that her mind was unbalanced, still no one thought of such a serious result. Since the death of her daughter, Mrs. Bowling, she has been dependent and unhappy.

About 3 o'clock this morning, Tuesday March 13, she was missed from her home, and a search was immediately instituted for her. She was found in the pond, as stated above, and was still alive, though she died soon afterward. There is no doubt that she had slipped to the pond and was chilled to death by the cold water. She had taken quills with her and probably intended to make her way by the side of the grave that contained the form that was dearest to her.

These are the facts as received at a very early hour, and while they may not be minute in every particular, I suppose they are authentic.

The A. P. A. in Cloverport.
It is reported on good authority that an agent of the A. P. A. was working in Cloverport last week in the interest of that order, trying to effect an organization at this place. It is also said that several Cloverport citizens are already members of that organization and that others went to Louisville the latter part of last week for the purpose of joining.

A News representative was given the names of all the alleged Cloverport members, and they are all, without a single exception, Republicans. It should be added, however, that they do not compose the most intelligent portion of the Republican party of Cloverport and vicinity.

In Memory.
Mrs. Tillie Connor, wife of Mr. Robert F. Connor, died of brain fever at home, Ind., March 8th, 1894, Thursday morning at 6 o'clock, aged 30 years. After a short and painful illness death has released her from earth to view Eternity's vast realm one of whose likenesses the poet has said: "One knee kneels, but to love thee. No name canst thou, but to praise thee. Bright, cheerful in disposition; amiable, beloved by all who knew her, she moved a glittering star in the firmament of purity."

At the close of the services, held by Rev. Henry Groves, all took a last look at the sweet calm face, which would soon be hid in the cold grave, to await the resurrection morn, to the happy spirit has winged its way to God. She will be missed in the community where she has lived so long, missed in the church and more than in any other place will she be missed in her own home. Thus truly can we say "Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord, they rest from their labor and their works do follow!" But so dearly we have loved her.

But so dearly we have loved her. But Jesus loved her more. Yes, Ohi! yes we have parted, but not forever more. Nor Tillie is an angel now.
LILLIE M. CONNOR.
Home, Ind. March 11th, 1894.

Cot. J. B. Ball, of the Farmers Home Journal, is being favorably mentioned as a candidate for State Commissioner of Agriculture.

MT. JOSEPH.

Miss Rosa Miller has the mumps.

J. F. Carter, of Irvington, was here on business, Friday.

Mrs. Lucy Norton, of Cloverport, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Ray Drury, of Cloverport, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Mrs. R. L. Carter was confined to her bed most of last week with the gripe.

Mr. P. B. Greenwood was the guest of Miss Brook Tinius Sunday evening.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tinius is quite sick at this writing.

Chas. Riebel was the guest of Miss Jessie Hawkins, Persimmon Flat, Sunday.

Miss Lydia Boutinghouse, Addison, was the guest of Miss Rosa Miller Sunday.

Rev. S. G. Shelly filled his regular appointment at Holt's Chapel Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock.

Miss Bertha Hawkins, of Persimmon Flat, attended church here Sunday accompanied by W. A. Tinius.

Misses Mollie and Lillie Johnson, Persimmon Flat, were the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Miller Friday and Saturday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Miller died of Bronchial Pneumonia (ever) at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. James Johnson, of Persimmon Flat, was circulating among his many friends at this place Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. J. D. Sampley of Addison, was here last week. He expects to go to Iowa soon, where his brother has secured him a good position.

Fertilizers!

Farmers needing Fertilizers should call on J. J. FRIEL, at May's Cooper Shop, west-end Iron bridge, has just received a car load from The Cleveland Dryer Co., Cleveland, O.

Prices made satisfactory and delivered at various points in the county.

For Sale

35 Horse power Saw Mill, full attachments.

6 yoke work cattle. 1 span horses.

Log wagons, chains, ensilage cutter, etc.

Apply to

A. HERON, Cottage, Cloverport, Ky.

P. HOPPER, Heyser House, Cloverport, Ky.

-Season 1894-

No Doctor's Bill!

Sulzer's Safety Bicycles.

A positive remedy for all Bilious and Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Ague, Constipation, Rheumatism, Etc.

See what inducements we can offer you this season to purchase a "Bike."

Cloverport, Ky.

Chas. B. & O. T. Skillman

ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE.

Are You Looking- -For Bargains!

We have them that you can't afford to miss. Our Spring stock of is on hand, and if you want to be "in it" this season, come in and see how nice we can fit you up. It matters not whether you are big or little, long or short, old or young, black or white, straight or crooked, we can fit you all, and at such a low price you yourself will be surprised.

CLOTHING

Also we have a beautiful line of Hats "The Swan Brand" that can't be beat for style nor quality. Don't forget the Brand, for we are the only people that handle them.

Very Respectfully,

B. F. Beard & Co.,

HARDINSBURG, KY.

NOTICE.

All parties indebted to me by note or account are requested to come forward at once and settle their indebtedness. Don't delay matters longer than the 1st day of April, 1894, as on and after that date all unpaid notes and accounts will be placed in the hands of an officer for collection.
Pay up, and don't force me to put you to any expense, trouble or cost. My wife has charge of my books and notes, and will make settlements for me. Extending thanks for past favors and hoping for prompt settlements, I am, very truly,
Yours, J. M. SEEVERS,
Union Star, Ky.

FOR SALE.

One four-year old mule, at bands high; one year old bay filly and one large brood mare. Will sell for cash or on credit.
W. D. HOLT, Holt, Ky.

PUBLIC SALE.

Having sold our farm, we will offer at auction on Saturday, March 17th, 1894, our farm stock, farm implements, feed, etc., consisting of horses, mules, cattle and hogs, a full assortment of farm utensils, also a quantity of corn, wheat, oats and clover. Terms made known on day of sale.
W. S. CART, D. S. B. C.

Notice to Tax Payors.

I will be at Bowlingville on March 16, Union Star, the 21, Stephensonport, the 22, for the purpose of collecting your taxes. Please remember the dates and meet me, those of you who have not paid.
W. S. CART, D. S. B. C.

Notice.

Any one having Hickory Scraps or Hops will do well by selling on CLOVERPORT, KY.

